Customer Proprietary Network Information Certification Accompanying Statement

Ren-Tel Communications, Inc. ("REN-TEL") has established practices and procedures adequate to ensure compliance with Section 222 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and the Federal Communications Commission's ("FCC") rules pertaining to customer proprietary network information ("CPNI") set forth in sections 64.2001 — 64.2011 of the Commission's rules. This attachment summarizes REN-TEL's practices and procedures, which have been updated to adequately ensure compliance with the Commission's CPNI rules, as modified by the Commission in 2007.

Safeguarding against pretexting

- REN-TEL takes reasonable measures to protect CPNI and believes that these measures sufficiently prevent unauthorized access to CPNI.

Training and discipline

- REN-TEL has trained its personnel in the appropriate use of CPNI. All employees with access to CPNI are required to review and comply with REN-TEL's CPNI policies and procedures.
- REN-TEL has disciplinary process in place for violations of REN-TEL's CPNI policies and procedures which would encompass any misuse of CPNI.

REN-TEL'S use of CPNI

- REN-TEL does not share, disclose, or otherwise provide CPNI to third parties.
- REN-TEL may use CPNI for the following purposes:
 - > To initiate, render, maintain, repair, bill and collect for services;
 - > To protect its property rights; or to protect its subscribers or other carriers from fraudulent, abusive, or the unlawful use of, or subscription to, such services;
 - > To provide inbound telemarketing, referral or administrative services to the customer during a customer initiated call and with the customer's informed consent; and
 - > To market additional services to customers that are within the same categories of service to which the customer already subscribes.
- REN-TEL does not disclose or permit access to CPNI to track customers that call competing service providers.
- REN-TEL discloses and permits access to CPNI where required by law (e.g., under a lawfully issued subpoena).

Customer approval and informed consent

- REN-TEL does not use CPNI for any purpose that would require customer approval to do so. REN-TEL does not use CPNI for any marketing purposes and does not share, disclose, or otherwise provide CPNI to any third party. If this policy changes in the future, REN-TEL will implement practices and procedures to ensure compliance with the Commission's CPNI regulations.

Additional safeguards

- REN-TEL has established a supervisory review process designed to ensure compliance with the FCC's CPNI rules.
- REN-TEL designates one or more officers, as an agent or agents of the company, to sign and file a CPNI Compliance Certificate on an annual basis. The Certificate conforms to the requirements set forth in FCC rule 64.2009(e).
- REN-TEL properly authenticates a customer prior to disclosing CPNI based on customer initiated telephone contact, online account access, or an in-person visit.
- REN-TEL notifies customers immediately of any account changes.
- REN-TEL may negotiate alternative authentication procedures for services that REN-TEL provides to business customers that have both a dedicated account representative and a contract that specifically addresses REN-TEL's protection of CPNI.
- In the event of a breach of CPNI, REN-TEL will notify law enforcement as soon as practicable and no later than seven (7) business days from discovering the breach. Customers will be notified after the seven (7) day period, unless the relevant investigatory party directs REN-TEL to delay notification, or REN-TEL and the investigatory party agree to an earlier notification. REN-TEL will maintain a record of all CPNI security breaches, including a description of the breach and the CPNI involved, along with notifications sent to law enforcement and affected customers.
